Ford GLOBE Launches Web Pages

For Immediate Release

Monday, March 17, 1997

Contact: Ford GLOBE FordGLOBE@delphi.com (313) 438-1970

Dearborn-- Expanding its electronic communication and outreach beyond the bounds of internal corporate computer systems, Ford Gay, Lesbian or Bisexual Employees (Ford GLOBE) announces the launch of its web pages on the Internet on Monday, March 17, 1997. Ford GLOBE is a formal network group for employees (salaried, hourly and retired) and active agency contractors of Ford Motor Company who are gay, lesbian or bisexual or who support their concerns.

The group launched its home page at <http://people.delphi.com/fordglobe> in conjunction with the March release date of Ford World, one of Ford Communication Network's internal newspapers. The March issue of Ford World features an article on Ford GLOBE as part of an on-going series highlighting Ford's officially-recognized employee resource groups. The monthly newspaper is read by thousands of Ford employees.

The Ford GLOBE web pages will contain information about Ford GLOBE's worldwide activities both inside and outside the company, news articles on gay, lesbian and bisexual workplace issues and links to related sites on the web. For more information, contact Ford GLOBE at FordGLOBE@delphi.com.
